THE writings of the wise are the only things which our posterity cannot squander.—W. S. Landor.

Great Britain is not in Europe. The fact that Great Britain is an island makes this fact self-evident, although it is usually regarded as part of it. Geologists believe that the British Isles were originally attached to the mainland, but that it separated from the main body in recent (geological) times.

One of the courses listed in the college curriculum has never been given.

But B. S. 135, comparative anatomy, can be given next semester if sufficient students signify their intention of taking the course. Prerequisite is Zoology 1A with a grade of C. All interested may have information by addressing box 835.

HOUDINI remained under water for four minutes and sixteen seconds in a public test.

When he was challenged to competition by various swimming champions, the great magician set this record for submersion.

In the course of his career, he made an elephant vanish from a stage (without the use of trap doors), escaped from coffins, boilers, glass boxes, strait jackets, and from the carcass of a sewed-up whale.

However, in all the years of his life, he never solved the trick of washing behind his ears. His wife always found it necessary to perform this duty for the thirty odd years of their association.

THERE is no Smithsonian Institution.

Although the above name is usually applied to the Washington edifice of learning, the British chemist and mineralogist who founded it asked that it be called the "Smithsonian Institution."

Horses and elephants sleep while standing.

It is said that some elephants have been found standing even after they were dead. Most of the Herivora are capable of sleeping in this position because their legs are provided with "locking" muscular mechanisms similar to those of birds. There is no brain control over muscles essential to the maintenance of this position, for they are controlled by reflex actions of the spinal cord.

MARYLAND is the only state which has T. B.

A small village in the southern part of Prince George County, Maryland, is called T. B. Although this is the slang expression for tuberculosis, the letters are merely the initials of Thomas Brookes, who owned much land of that neighborhood in colonial days. Thus the town is named after a man and not for the dreaded "white plague."

Hamrock Plans A. M. S. Meeting Tomorrow at 11

Men students of San Francisco State will meet for a rally in the Little Theater tomorrow morning, according to an announcement made today by James Hamrock, president of the A. M. S.

A varied program will be staged by the Men's Association for the entertainment of those attending. Drama and music will vie with talks and refreshments as highlights of the event.

Included on the program will be a boxing match sponsored by Dan Farmer's boxing class, and a musical program presented under the auspices of the campus Music Federation.

Hal Harden and Dan Farmer, football mentors, will occupy the spotlight when they discuss prospects for the remainder of the grid season. The talks will be followed by refreshments.

Plans are also under way for a smoker to be given by the Men's Club some time during the second week of December.

REGISTRAR'S NOTES

Lorbeer in Discussion On Future

Swami Ashokananda at International Club Meeting Tuesday

"The Philosophies and Religions of India" will be the subject of a lecture to be given by Swami Ashokananda, of the Hindu Temple, before the International Relations Club next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Room A210.

"History must be the highlight, not the tail-light, in our study of current problems. San Francisco's future will greatly depend upon our knowledge of the peoples that border on the Pacific," declared Mr. George C. Lorbeer, Pacific relations instructor at Lowell High School, in a talk on "Some Glimpses of India" delivered before the International Club last Wednesday evening in the activities room.

Changes in India

Mr. Lorbeer stated that social conditions in India are daily undergoing changes and that, therefore, it would be unwise for anyone to predict India's future.

India today is under the influence of the contradicting philosophies of two of the world's greatest living characters, Mahatma Gandhi, champion of India's policy of non-violence and non-resistance against the British, and Rabindranath Tagore, world-famous Indian poet and philosopher. Rabindranath believes, preaches and practices the philosophy the essence of which is that only by fully co-operating with England can the people of India achieve their emancipation.

Indications seem to show that Gandhi is winning in India. Gandhi is at present touring all over the country and resolutely campaigning for the abolishment of "untouchability" and the complete elimination of other social ills, in an attempt to effect the liberation of his people.

Much Illiteracy

Mr. Lorbeer believes that the growing incompatibility of the caste system, the extremely high percentage of illiteracy, widespread poverty among the masses of the people, the frequent recurrence of epidemics among the lower strata of the population, the serious food shortage, the opium problem, and the ruthless exploitation of the natives by English money-lenders are the most fundamental problems confronting India today. Carefully planned steps are being taken, however, to combat every one of these problems, Mr. Lorbeer said.

Introduced Course

According to Mr. Lorbeer, he is perhaps the first teacher in the entire public school system of the country who has evolved and taught a course in Pacific relations. Mr. Lorbeer gathered his material for the course by actually frequently traveling in those countries. By making an extensive study of their people's culture, social institutions and current problems, Mr. Lorbeer succeeded in establishing the course. Pacific relations is now taught in all the San Francisco public schools.

A. C. to Go Roller Skating at Iceland

"Merrily We Roll Along" will be the theme song of the Student Advisory Council when the members go roller skating at Iceland on Sutter street at 7:30 on the 16th of October.

This term the Advisory Council has a slight change in procedure. Instead of two business meetings a month, one meeting will be devoted to social activities. Events to watch for are a Halloween party in October and a picnic at Sigmund Stern in November.

At the business meetings there will be speakers on the programs, probably faculty members, according to Louise Parodi, vice-chairman of the council.

Kleinecke Honored

Miss Mary L. Kleinecke, associate professor of English, San Francisco State College, was elected to the position of president of Chapter No. 3 of the California State Employees' Association October 7.

Miss Kleinecke is the first woman president in the association.

Gater Team Meets San Jose Today

Bear Debate Squad Attacks Stater Lair Late in October

San Jose State College will be the opponent of this campus' debaters this evening when two-man teams from both schools clash over the question: "Resolved, That the Supreme Court Be Made an Advisory Board."

Coach K. M. King, hopeful of maintaining State's undefeated debate record for this season, announced that Jack Werchick and Clifford Worth would compose State's varsity. Werchick and Worth, who defeated St. Mary's two weeks ago, will defend the affirmative side of the question.

KENNETH KING
Debate Coach

The debate will take place in the Frederic Burk auditorium at 8 p. m. There will be a three-judge decision, and a poll of the audience will also be taken.

Friday night the Little Theater will be the scene of another forensic contest, when the women's varsities of San Jose and State argue over the question: "Resolved, That Married Women, Except When the Sole Supports of Dependents, Should Be Excluded from Industry."

Blanche Tovey and Pauline Morse will represent State. There will be no decision rendered.

University of California's varsity men's team will visit this campus on October 21 at 9 a. m., to debate over a social credit plan. Robert Van Houtte and Burton Johnson have been assigned to this contest.

An opportunity for novice debaters will be given at the American Banking Institute on October 24 and 25, according to Coach King. "This tournament," he said, "is merely for the purpose of giving experience to beginning debaters and no prizes or awards will be made. We expect to enter as many teams as we can."

The question for the novice tournament has been chosen as: "Resolved, That the Federal Government Should Conduct a National Lottery."

Mrs. Cowell Speaks At Parent-Faculty

Once each semester the Parent-Faculty Club sponsors a benefit for the Student Loan fund. November 14 has been chosen for the date of the card party to be held in Frederic Burk auditorium at 2 p. m.

Refreshments will be served. The club members are asking the co-operation and loyal support of all who may be interested. Tickets are 50 cents and may be secured from members or may be purchased at the door.

The club held its regular monthly meeting October 2 at 2 p. m. in Activities Room. Mrs. Olive Thompson Cowell spoke on "Cosmopolitan San Francisco." Betty McRay gave two vocal numbers. She was accompanied by Marguerite Schober. The program closed with violin selections by Lucien Morrison, with Richard Coughlin accompanying.

The next Executive Board meeting will be held October 16 at 10:30 in Anderson Hall.

Dead Man's Cove For Artists Picnic

Dead Man's Cove will be the scene of the Brush and Palette picnic on Saturday, October 19.

The group will meet at the Legion of Honor at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon in order to spend some time viewing the art exhibit there. Afterwards they will go to the cove, which is a sheltered beach near the Legion, sketch, build a fire, and picnic when the urge comes. Each member is requested to bring one guest.

Music Dinner Wednesday Nite in Co-op

"Hallowe'en" Motif of Federation Meet; Entertainment

Hallowe'en will be the motif of the second annual Music Federation dinner and entertainment to be held Wednesday evening, October 23. The affair will begin with dinner in the Co-op at 6:15, followed by a dance and entertainment in the music building later in the evening. The admission charge will be thirty-five cents.

All members of the Music Federation are invited to attend, and each member will be allowed one guest, not necessarily a music student. A guest of honor, whose name has not as yet been revealed, will be present. A sign-up will be passed around at the group meetings of the organizations composing the Music Federation, and members will sign up for themselves and guests at those times.

Martha Kramer, general chairman, promises that the entertainment will be something different. Each of the musical groups will be represented in some sort of skit or stunt. Faculty members of the music department are reported to have arranged some novelties also.

The committee members assisting Miss Kramer in arranging the affair consist of Helen Strand, program chairman; Henrietta Saylor, in charge of decorations; Clarice Dechent, heading the publicity; and Dick Coughlin, arranging for finance. Ed Faby will act as master of ceremonies for the dinner. He will be assisted by Marion Clarenbach and Elizabeth Stypes.

Those in charge of the stunts to follow the dinner are: Bob Hart of the band; Lu Morrison, orchestra representative; Alice Marsten, directing the Carols; Anita Hilken, from the A. Capella Choir; Dr. William Knuth heads the faculty group; and Miss Eileen McCall will present the Madrigals.

Paul Radin Will Speak

Sphinx Society members will hear the long-postponed address by Dr. Paul Radin on the "American Indian" at their meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Dr. Radin, scheduled for an earlier date, was unable to come until today. He is nationally famous for his research into Indian life and folklore, and will discuss unpublished material on the subject.

A program for the remainder of the semester was charted out at a recent meeting of the Sphinx Council, according to information given out by Robert Van Houtte, president.

Included on the program are talks by Roy Cave on the national budget; Benjamin Ellisburg, Marxian philosopher, on "Literature and Marxian Theories," and Dr. Floyd Cave on the question: "Is Democracy Done For?"

Later in the semester, Miss Susan Benteen will speak on "Oriental Impressions," and "Westernism" will be the topic of a talk by James Hall.

Siena Bridge Set For October 17th

Siena will hold its needlework bridge on Thursday evening, October 17, at the clubhouse, 350 Buchanan street. Ramona Galeno has been chosen as the chairman of this affair. The purpose of this bridge party is to raise money to buy garments for the needy. These garments are bought by the club and then sent to the Needlework Guild of America. Siena has done this work for a number of years, and the officers of this semester hope that this bridge will be even more successful than it has been in the past.

Tickets will be 35 cents, refreshments will be served, and many valuable prizes are to be offered to the attendants.

"We hope that as many outsiders as possible will join us in this affair," said Betty Ryan, president of Siena.

High Juniors Plan Interesting Program

"High juniors are planning some very interesting activities," said Miss Dolly Sonderup, class president, in reference to Junior Day, which will be November 18.

Dance Bids On Sale Now In Main Hall

Plans Completed For Soph Strut at Devonshire Club on October 26

Corsages will be out of order at the Soph Strut Saturday, October 26, at the Devonshire Country Club and the dance is to be semi-formal. The committee in charge of the sale of bids has announced that there are a few bids left and that upper classmen and freshmen are eligible to secure one for $1.25. It was also announced by the committee that no bids will be sold the night of the affair.

A map showing the route to the Devonshire Country Club can be found in the main hall at the ticket table and the person in charge of the table will answer any questions regarding the way.

Gary Evers' Orchestra has been secured for the event and Evers has promised to be the chairman of the dance. Howard Demeke and Dawn Wilson, that many novelty numbers will be arranged for the dance.

Chairman Named

Coinciding with the music will be the Hallowe'en atmosphere that will envelop the hall. Decorations will be orange and black and the lighting effects will be so arranged to provide a setting full of ghastly shadows.

Committee heads are as follows: Bud Decker, Howard Demeke, Dawn Wilson, Everett Parrish and Charlie Rich.

News Writer Lectures on Bay Bridges

Robert Elliot, special staff writer for the San Francisco News, will reveal the activities that occur behind the scenes of the San Francisco Bay Bridge, when he speaks in Frederic Burk auditorium on October 30.

Elliot announced that he would take the audience on an imaginary rip over the mid-air catwalks of the bridges. "And then, when we return from the catwalks," he said, "that is, if we do, I'll lecture to you about the bridges." The trip over the high cables is a risky venture, according to the journalist, and requires steel nerves and a firm grip.

The speaker is the only journalist who has "covered" the bridges or a bay region paper since the first soundings were taken over a year ago. "The bridge is now 50 per cent completed," he said. "The Bay Bridge will open to traffic in the fall of 1936, and the Golden Gate Bridge in May of 1937."

Elliot's journalistic experience as included editorship of the Salt Lake Telegram, Indiana Star, and independent Daily. He has also edited and served on staff positions of many student journals.

Checks Coming Out This Week

"No F.E.R.A. checks will be available until all cards are turned in promptly on the 29th of each month." Thus Mr. Leo C. Nee explains the recent delay in payment of checks, which caused much questioning of his department.

Mr. Nee and Dean David J. Cox represented State in a meeting of the National Youth Administration which met last Friday. Representatives of all schools and colleges employing federal aid were present at this meeting.

It was decided that checks will be obtainable on the fifth of each month, allowing a maximum of six days after the auditors receive the pay roll. The pay roll can only be sent to the N.Y.A. after all cards have been turned in to the office.

Dinner Is Planned For A. B. Grads

A. B. graduates will have their next meeting Wednesday, October 16, at the Grand View Hotel and Tea Room, 465 Grant avenue.

The meeting will be preceded by a tour of Chinatown and a Chinese dinner. The trip will start from the Tea Room at 6 o'clock. The price of the dinner will be sixty-five cents, according to Roy Nicolaysen, arrangements committee chairman.

Tickets must be purchased in advance. Information concerning them and the place of meeting will be distributed to all graduate students.

Belmont Country Club Spot for Junior Prom

Vincent Haderle, president of the Junior Class, stated that the Junior Prom will be held on Saturday night, November 16, at the Belmont Country Club instead of the ocean liner, which was previously planned.

The dance will be semi-formal and will be under the supervision of Mary Rice, vice-president of the class.

Seniors Will Skate At Iceland November 22

Lila Rasmussen is the chairman of the second pre-Circus Day event, a skating party sponsored by the Senior Class. The admission will be 25 cents per person with 5 cents worth of merchandise on Circus Day. Betty Meadowcroft, president of the seniors, announced that they have rented the entire rink for Friday evening, November 23, and that only State students and their friends will be admitted.

Co-Op Report on Finances Is Given

Numerous Acts Are Accepted

Talented Entry List Brings Sparkle To "Hamacheur" Hour Nov. 6

Tickets at 25 cents apiece are on sale today for the "Hamacheur" Hour to take place on Wednesday night, November 6, in Frederic Burk auditorium.

According to Harold Garden, chairman of the occasion, the response to his cry for talent has been very great and there are now 22 acts definitely accepted. The program has been limited to 25 numbers to facilitate judging.

Acts Wanted

Garden invites all unique entertainment such as comic skits, short plays, original numbers, pantomimes and dances to apply for an audition, as these are the types of acts most needed to make the program really enjoyable, according to Garden.

"Aren't there some students at State who have home-made instruments and know how to play them, or those who have humorous monologues and skits and would be glad to perform?" questioned Garden today. "My post box is 1001," he continued, "and if the applicants drop me a line I will be glad to arrange an audition for them."

Audience Is Judge

Prizes have been donated by merchants in the districts around State College. The audience is to be sole judge of the performances. There are to be two sections to the program. In the first section twelve of the performers will give their acts and then during a fifteen-minute intermission the audience will judge the winners of this section. After this the second section of thirteen numbers will present their entertainment and these will be judged. The prizes will be awarded to the winners of the two sections.

Garden Leads Festivities

"Garden is going to be master of ceremonies at the 'Hamacheur' Hour with the official title of Captain Garden. He is going to be ably assisted by a yet unnamed stooge," stated Edward Morgan, president of the Associated Students. "This stooge is going to remain incognito until the great night and will then be one of the many big surprises. There is not only going to be a song but also a hook to adequately take care of any performers not deemed talented enough to continue their acts."

Funds for Franciscan

The entire fund from Circus Day and the other events preceding it, such as the "Hamacheur" Hour and the Senior Skating Party are to be turned over to the Franciscan. Morgan has set the goal at $500 and assures the Student Body that no smaller amount would be worthy of State school spirit.

Some of the acts already accepted for "Hamacheur" Hour are as follows: A comedy skit by Harold Harden and Daniel Farmer, a song presentation by Dean Cox, a pantomime by Harold Post, a piano number by Constance James, and the Five State Hula Dancers in their interpretation of real Hawaiian rhythm.

More Amphitheater

Just a Few Comments

In last week's issue of the GOLDEN GATER an editorial was printed suggesting the construction of a permanent amphitheater on the campus. The idea was received with a great degree of favorable comment. The purpose of this editorial is to present a part of that comment:

Dr. A. C. Roberts, president of the college:

"The idea of constructing a permanent outside seating plan is a practical one. Some such arrangement, no doubt, could be put in without too much expense. The need of such an amphitheater could be many, and its advantages likewise. Student meetings, rallies, programs, and the like could be held there. The need of an open-air gathering place on the campus has been felt for some time, and this may be a solution to the problem."

Edward Morgan, president of the student body:

"I think the idea presented in the Golden Gater concerning an outdoor rally place is a very good one. Its uses could be very easily expanded to include all student activity that requires a large meeting place. I am heartily in favor of the construction of such a work, and will appoint a committee to look into the matter at once. The school does need such a place."

Mr. Perry Bale, superintendent of grounds:

"I have no objections to using that part of the campus, as recommended in your editorial, for such work; but I do feel that as long as it is such a big piece of work it should be given much mature, deliberate consideration before any attempt at construction is made."

Leo C. Nee, comptroller of the student body:

"In my opinion the idea has a lot of possibilities and I do consider it plausible from a financial standpoint."

Dean David J. Cox:

"There are possibilities to such a construction, but I feel that the suggestion, as presented, could be slightly modified for a more practical amphitheater. Tiers of seats could be built in sections of fifteen or twenty feet wide, about half the way up the hill. Then, along the side wall of the lower annex another section of six or eight tiers be built. This would give the thing a convex curvature which is lacking in building straight up the hill, and which would make for better ease in hearing for the audience, and which would make it easier for those on the stage."

Such are the opinions and recommendations of the administration who would be in direct charge of such work. Student opinion also should be considered and your ideas will be more than welcome. Please leave such criticisms or ideas as you may have in the Publications Office.

EDDIE SCOPE, one of the vocalists of PAUL PENDARVIS' Palace Hotel orchestra, celebrated his second anniversary with the band today. During the spring of 1933 PAUL WHITEHEAD had a Northwestern College youth audition and out of 326 contestants EDDIE won first place... then joined PAUL PENDARVIS' troupe.

TED LEWIS and his orchestra will get $12,500 for a week's engagement at the San Francisco Auto Show starting November 16. FRAY AND BRAGGIOTTI, one of radio's best piano teams, have split. Either BEN BERNIE or WALLACE BEERY will be the master of ceremonies on the Shell Chateau program starting October 12.

KAY GRIFFITH is the new vocalist in GRIFF WILLIAMS' Mark Hopkins Hotel orchestra. She's a graduate from the University of Chicago and is also a commercial artist.

JOE PENNER has bought a companion for his duck GOO-

GOO. Has named the newcomer GA-GA. PENNER is still scouting around for a sponsor. SIGMUND ROMBERG writes at least one original number a week. KAY THOMPSON and her girls left the WARING show because expenses had to be cut to meet the cost of Stoopnagle and Budd.

"FATS WALLER" will go to Hollywood to play and sing some numbers in "The King of Burlesque," starring Warner Baxter. It cost the Ford Motor Company approximately $100,000 for the privilege of broadcasting the world series. A considerable portion of his sum was divided among players of the competing teams.

While in Europe last summer, MISS McCALL, one of our cosmopolitan music instructors, bought, and brought home, a clavichord. For the last few weeks in music class some of BACH's finest clavichord music. I'm not trying to polish any apples, but for your information she really plays it. If interested, go out and look at the clavichord—and maybe listen.

Dear Mr. Worth:

In the next issue of your paper will you please put an article saying that:

"Who is the little blonde who is capturing the hearts of the cafeteria? She comes from San Mateo J. C., we hear."

Thank you.

Dear Thax:

Blessings on thee, little woman (You are one, aren't you), we're always glad to hear from our readers.

That same thing has been bothering me, too. The only blonde I know of who may be doing that is Ann Cornell. Is she the one you mean?

With regards,

Cliff Worth.

Nadezda Lawrence, who can do a nice dance, was strutting her stuff at the Oasis Club a week or so ago, and now she's to entertain them at the 450 Club. Hope you get a long way, Nadezda!

SO WE HEARD:

When you see Stan Sieber and Leona Biglovsky (once upon a time) together, don't raise your eyebrows. We've got it straight.

That Bill (sorry we didn't get his last name), the lieutenant, is still very much Leona's "to-be."

Soon, so we understand. The boys in P. E. 153 are Zither and you. . . .

We still wonder whether or not smay was the inspiration for Al Shepard's "Spring Dance."

And what tall practice teacher is very much captivated by one of his blonde students? Cradle snatching? . . . Bill Rose better keep his eye on Shirlee Senk. Before Mrs. Monroe's 131 class "the man with the moustachio" professed his eager quest for knowledge: "He'd like to know her."

(Name furnished on request.)

What's this we hear about Bob Moore, Phil Burnham and another young man pickin' up some stray hounds on the highway. (Only the hounds happened to be greyhounds.)

Moore and Phil weren't successful in persuading Mrs. Burnham to keep them for the night.

The three we heard about it the THREE of them (hounds, not students) were in the housegoose. . . .

(The students were almost in the doghouse; one of the cops had bet 20 bucks on one of the dogs and the dog had lost the race!)

Jacky Martin is still handing out those verbs, adjectives, and sinker to that tall, dark and handsome Romeo, Al, Jacky. . . .

Is it really THAT bad? . . . George McParland and Elizabeth Kennedy are getting on so well. . . .

Watch Elizabeth's left hand about February. . . . (Boy, is this getting to advance dope?) . . .

Leo C. Nee wants Miss Meng as timekeeper, cause he's so very overworked he's doing tomorrow's work yesterday.

Students will never know just what torture those two Gater snoopers went through to get the very mild "Faculty Follies" story.

Reporters: Martyrs to the cause.

Still engaged at present: Mac Dermott and Beatrice. . . . so's the little blonde Moore girl. . . . Helen Strand. . . .

State Managers Deserve 'Break'

The important managerial staff of State athletics receives little recognition for the hard work it accomplishes, being completely overshadowed by the athletes.

Many students fail to realize the responsibility of the manager of a Gater squad. Balls, helmets, javelins, protectors, and bats are only a small part of the large amount of the expensive equipment the managers have under their care.

Night after night the manager is on the scene of practice, giving as much time as the athletes themselves. On top of this, he must arrange the schedule.

The managers and their assistants are: football, Ted Krieger, Ed Simon, assistant; track, Jim Pinkerton, head, (assistant needed); varsity basketball, Constantine Stecheioff, head, Bill Rose, assistant; 145's, Ed Smith; baseball, Bill Rose, head, Dave Schultz, assistant; and tennis, Bob Chavaler.

Applications for an assistant manager's position should be given to the senior manager. All senior managers are awarded the Block "S."

Fighting State Footballers Will Surprise Jaysee Rival, Says Oscar, Grid Eggsper

Simon Injured in Practice; Nathan
May See Service

Hold your breath, folks! Awaiting a tough game against S. F. J. C. at Kezar Stadium, Saturday, the State football team faces, on one hand, the probable loss of its great end, Ralph Simon, and, on the other, the not improbable return to the grid wars of its star halfback, Ralph Nathan.

Nathan, who two weeks ago sustained an injury to his back in the State-Chico clash, has been limbering up on the practice field during the week and, according to Co-coaches Farmer and Harden, stands a 25-75 chance of seeing service.

Simon, bulwark of the Gater defense, suffered a sprained wrist in scrimmage, Monday. Whether or not he will be able to play Saturday depends upon how fast he will recuperate. Farmer and Harden expect him to see action in at least half of the game. Gordon Thomas, scrappy youngster, will fill in for him the rest of the contest.

Bogdanoff Filling Nathan's Shoes Capably
And Yee Fine End Replacement;
Gaters Aggressive

By FLOYD WALTER

"If the strong San Francisco Junior College football team, State's opponent this Saturday at Kezar Stadium, thinks it is going to coast to an easy win over the Gaters, it is sadly mistaken."

Oscar, the Co-op critic, hurriedly downing a tuna sandwich and a choc shake between classes, was the speaker. And Oscar, we don't mind telling you, is in the "know." He's been calling the turn on the Gater eleven pretty well this season—even for a grandstand quarterback.

"No, sir," Oscar continued; "despite the loss of Ralph Nathan and Ray Kaufman, Co-coaches Dan Farmer and Hal Harden are by no means giving up the ship. The team functioned well without these men last week-end, and only the worst of 'breaks' prevented a State victory."

Bogdanoff Fills Shoes

Here, Oscar paused, and, looking about him, whispered confidentially, "Personally, between you and me, Captain George Bogdanoff is capably filling Nathan's shoes as a ball carrier. And Ed Yee is an able substitute for Kaufman. Besides—as was shown against Mare Island—the passing attack has started to click, and the line, as well as the backfield, is showing the sort of light and spirit that wins games."

"Now, I'm not overlooking the fact that the Jaysee eleven, coached by Russell Sweet, has plenty on the ball. With a weight and experience advantage, the Rams will rate a favorite."

Info Given on Rams

Humbly, we asked Oscar for information concerning the Jaysee team. Picking a bread crumb from his coat sleeve, the great man replied: "In George Clarke, former Galileo III star, and Tom Mauer, ex-First III star, the Rams have two first halves. In Forest Morrison, ex-Mission half, they have a swell punter and passer; and in George Pantages, ex-Commerce, they possess a plunging fullback who is hard to stop."

The Ram line averages 187 pounds per man, with Bob Kurtz and Charles Brickey, tackles, tipping the beams at 205 and 195 pounds, respectively.

"As to reserves, well, they're plentiful. Coaches Sweet, Dutch Conlon, Lee Eisan and Jack Gaddy have capable shock troops."

Eleven Against Eleven

"Say," we asked Oscar, "if the Rams are as good as you picture them, how do you figure a Gater victory?"

"Listen, when the opening whistle blows, it will be eleven of our men against eleven of theirs," sagely announced our informant. "If we can outfight them, as I believe we will, what we lack in weight, experience and reserve strength will be easily made up."

Wiping his fingers on his napkin, Oscar turned to leave. "If you find anyone offering odds against State, let 'em know I'm willing to wager a few kowies. Well, so-long!"

Lighter in Spirit

Lighter in spirit, ye scrivener finished his own lunch. Forgetting such trivialities as comparative scores and season records, all he could remember were the heartening words:

"When the opening whistle blows, it will be eleven of our men against eleven of theirs. If we can outfight them. . ."

Emmett Mahoney, former San Francisco State College basketball star, has been appointed head basketball coach at Golden Gate Junior College, according to press reports last week.

Mahoney, expecting to go through a winning season because of good material, states he is pointing to a victory over his alma mater. He believes his team, composed of former high school stars, has a good chance to beat the Gaters.

College News Written
By Martin and Staff

Articles concerning San Francisco State College which appear in the daily papers of San Francisco, as well as those of the East Bay district, are due to the hard work of Harold Martin, college publicity director, former editor of the Golden Gater, and student at State.

It is Martin who writes most of these articles, assisted by a small, but select, staff.

Boxers Defeated

Badly outnumbered, a Terrier squad came through in the last period of their contest with the Boxers to win 6 to 0 when a long pass, Thomas to E. Smith, was scored. The Boxers outplayed the winners but were unable to outscore them.

Yesterday the Chumps were also outnumbered and by a Little Lord Fauntleroy squad, but this Chump team played heads up ball and kept the Little Lord Fauntleroy's from scoring.

Pigskin Lineup Contains Large Number of Frosh

"A bit inexperienced, but they've got plenty of fight. When they've been knocked around a bit and learn by experience, they're going to be tough to beat. Yes, sir, look out for State's freshmen footballers!"

So stated Co-coaches Dan Farmer and Hal Harden of the grid squad concerning their first-year talent, which is plentiful.

Men on the football team with three years more of eligibility include Robert Scharetz, Darryl Hopkins, Carl Morton, Charles Iago, Carl Block, George Powles, Glenn Thompson, Gordon Bolander, Hank Bruns, Bill Plutte, Louis Abrams, Bud Glasgow, Leroy Armstrong, Keith Cox, Norman Bauer, and Herb Vecdi.

"These men will develop," say Farmer and Harden; "during the latter part of the season we're going to be tough to beat. As for next year and the two after, well, draw your own conclusions."

Radio Stars Secured As Rally Entertainers

The greatest array of radio talent ever assembled for a San Francisco State rally will be present at the pre-S. F. J. C. game rally Friday noon in the college gym.

Included in the list of artists is Brick Holton, a staff singer on station KFRG. Holton will not only serve as an entertainer but will introduce the other performers.

From the island of Oahu in the Hawaiian Islands comes Lei Aloha, a true tropical songbird and hula dancer. Lei Aloha has been very successful on the mainland and Holton promises the student body that she will not be disappointing Friday.

Another act that has been secured is the one of Oris and Smith, a colored combination that has just completed a successful engagement at the world famous Cotton Club of New York.

"A bit inexperienced, but they've got plenty of fight. When they've been knocked around a bit and learn by experience, they're going to be tough to beat. Yes, sir, look out for State's freshmen footballers!"

So stated Co-coaches Dan Farmer and Hal Harden of the grid squad concerning their first-year talent, which is plentiful.

Men on the football team with three years more of eligibility include Robert Scharetz, Darryl Hopkins, Carl Morton, Charles Iago, Carl Block, George Powles, Glenn Thompson, Gordon Bolander, Hank Bruns, Bill Plutte, Louis Abrams, Bud Glasgow, Leroy Armstrong, Keith Cox, Norman Bauer, and Herb Vecdi.

"These men will develop," say Farmer and Harden; "during the latter part of the season we're going to be tough to beat. As for next year and the two after, well, draw your own conclusions."

Boxers Defeated

Badly outnumbered, a Terrier squad came through in the last period of their contest with the Boxers to win 6 to 0 when a long pass, Thomas to E. Smith, was scored. The Boxers outplayed the winners but were unable to outscore them.

Yesterday the Chumps were also outnumbered and by a Little Lord Fauntleroy squad, but this Chump team played heads up ball and kept the Little Lord Fauntleroy's from scoring.

Invade Kezar Stadium, Saturday . . .

Keyed to a fighting pitch, the Farmer-Harden Gater Grid Machine (1935 Model), stung by its 2-2 deadlock against Mare Island last week-end, lines up in scrimmage, preparing to take vengeance on the strong S. F. Junior College eleven, when the two meet at Kezar Stadium, Saturday. In the line, reading from left to right, are Thomas, Plutte, Beseman, Iago, Glasgow, Werner, and Traeger. The backfield quartet is Powles, Bruns, Harkness, and Thompson.

Monday and Tuesday nights between 4 and 6, basketball men are holding workouts in the college gym in preparation for the coming casaba season. The practice is informal and Dan Farmer has announced that the regular sessions are not to be officially opened until after the current football year.

Among the men working out are Cy Atkinson, center; Harry Post, guard; Frank Regan; Sam Phillips, forward; George Mirande, forward; and Clem Zannini, forward.

Schedule to Date

Constantine Stecheioff, State basketball manager, and Fagner have arranged a skeleton schedule that includes some of the classic aggregations on the Pacific Coast.

The Purple and Gold five travel to Reno and play the University of Nevada varsity January 10 and 11. California Aggies are host to San Francisco January 17 and 18. Following the Aggie game, State meets the College of the Pacific team at Stockton January 24. After the encounter both teams come to San Francisco and play here January 25.

Chico, ancient rivals of San Francisco and alma mater of State's basketball coach, invade the bay city February 7 and 8. This encounter is growing in importance every year and is usually instrumental in packing Kezar.

Fresno and Stanford

February 14 and 15 are two banner days for San Francisco. On the former date the San Francisco men travel to Fresno and meet the champions of the Far Western Conference, Fresno State. With little chance to recuperate from that game, the team then travels to Stanford and meets the Indian varsity February 15.

Concluding the games scheduled to date is the Humboldt State varsity encounter February 21 and 22 in San Francisco. However, games have been tentatively arranged with Santa Clara February 28 and San Jose February 29.

Three Clubs Undeclared In Contests

Ducks, Newmans, and Terrors Victors;
One Tie

Intramural football has caught the entire student body in its grasp, and the games played during the noon hour upon the upper terrace are being witnessed by larger crowds every day.

George Mirande, intramural manager, states that the games the next two weeks will be more exciting than those played during the past week, inasmuch as the individual members of the teams are sure to co-operate better after playing together once.

Newman Downs Wildcats

In the first game played last Thursday, the Newman Club managed to defeat a fighting Wildcat team 8 to 0. The touchdown came late in the last period when Cy Atkinson caught a pass behind the goal lines for six points. With seconds left to play an unidentified Newman man broke through the Wildcat line and tagged Ken Johnson for a safety.

Both teams played ragged ball and it was a nip and tuck affair throughout. The only outstanding play that occurred were invented by the Newman players, but they failed to work because of the short time they had to perfect them.

Muddy Field

The games Friday, Monday and yesterday were played in a sea of mud and none of the teams were able to give a true account of their ability.

Friday the Frosh Ducks came from behind to win a close encounter from the Pigskinners. The Ducks were tricky with lateral plays and placed the ball in position for Plutte to complete a long pass to Milich over the goal line.

On the very next kick-off, however, Powles caught the ball and started for the left side of the field. When he was about to be stopped he gave the ball to English, who reversed the field and outdistanced the Ducks' secondary for seven digits.

Towards the last of the game the Pigskinners were tagged behind their own goal line by a mud-speckled Duck for a safety. This unnamed hero won the game for the Frosh inasmuch as the score was then Ducks 8, Pigskinners 7.

Employment Assignments Now Filled

High Grade Employment Offered State Women, Asserts Ward

"W.P.A. assignments for October will be filled by the time the Gater is issued," Dean Ward stated yesterday. "On this list will be some 144 students, with fifty yet to place. However, these students will be worked in during the semester. So, you see, W.P.A. will take care of roughly two hundred State students during the semester."

"The hours of employment a month vary from fifteen to twenty-five dollars. This money makes possible commensurate fares, buying of books, tuition, and emergencies. The attitude of the girls in W.P.A. is splendid. When one of them so assigned gets an outside job, she honorably informs me, and I am able to replace her with another student needing work."

Part Time Work Given

"And, in addition to W.P.A. work, I must not fail to mention part-time employment students have in homes, public libraries, and elsewhere."

The dean of women went on further to state that the part-time work situation was progressing splendidly. "We have this term a larger list of employers from which to choose than ever before."

"We maintain the highest standard of requirements for the employer, and I personally keep in touch with both employer and employee during the term, being satisfied that both are fulfilling their obligations. The work must be of a high quality and the environment on a high plane, or no State woman will be allowed to accept the position."

Workers Treated Well

Dean Ward also stated: "Practically all employers provide a cultural environment and the highest type of home. I am happy to say that these employers are interested in the students and treat them more as friends than as help."

Turning to her list of students working in homes, Dean Ward counted seventy so employed. She stated that there were more offers of work in her hands, but the employer in each case wanted too much time and heavy work put in. "This must be avoided," she said. "Only good hours and remuneration are acceptable to me," she concluded, "and when either of these are unfair to the women of the college I answer in a firm negative."

Magnin Will Back Show

Plans for the Fashion Show to be given soon under the sponsorship of Joseph Magnin were discussed by Bib and Tucker at their last meeting.

Although the exact time and place are not yet fully determined, it is expected to be on or about November 21 in either the Fredrick Burk auditorium or the Little Theater. A committee consisting of the officers was appointed to choose eight girls for modeling the clothes. It was decided that the price of tickets would be five cents for those with student body cards and ten cents for those without.

The "Open House" to be given on this Sunday, October 13, from 3 to 5, at the home of Ethel Bennett on 120 Quintara avenue, for Bib and Tucker members, was discussed. This gathering will be in the form of a tea. Approximately twenty-five members are expected to attend.

The booth to be run by Bib and Tucker members on Circus Day was brought to the attention of the members and a special meeting will be held on next Thursday, October 17, to decide the final plans.

Nyoda Initiates At Mexican Villa

Climaxing, but not ending, a very successful membership drive, the Nyoda Club held its biannual initiation dinner Wednesday, October 2, at Elena's Mexican Village, 330 Mason street. Approximately twenty new members were initiated and there were forty-two members present.

A typical Mexican dinner was enjoyed, followed by the introduction of the club officers. Entertainment, in the form of a harmonica solo by Gretchen Schneider; piano solo by Rosalie Vance, and a recitation of a southern dialect poem by Vida Clifton, was given. Unison singing of club songs was enjoyed by all. Muriel Bowman accompanied on the piano. Last but not least, came the initiation itself. Under the leadership of the chairman, Gretchen Schneider, it proved to be an ingenious and hilarious affair.

Helen Courgeous, vice-president of the club, was in charge of the entire dinner, and Juanita Trevasaki, song leader, produced the entertainment.

The decorations were the highlight of the evening, with Mexican sombreros for place cards; leaves and colorful flowers made the table very attractive. All of the decorations were under the supervision of Elizabeth Schanousky and her committee.

Phi Lambda's Next Activity A Hall Dinner

Marietta Rutherford Heads Committee For Club Party

As a part of the activities of Phi Lambda Chi, a dinner will be held next week, when members of the organization gather at their clubrooms on Buena Vista avenue under the leadership of their chairman, Marietta Rutherford. Scheduled for Tuesday night, October 22, the dinner will be followed by games and entertainment. A 30-cent charge will be made for members attending.

Pink lemonade, animal crackers and "suckers" were the refreshments served at the club's "Baby Night" last Wednesday. Games, under the direction of Mildred Billingsly, consisted of musical chairs, "hinkie finny spoon," and "I doubt it."

Costumes Worn

Appropriate costumes were worn for the occasion, and prizes were given for the most original. Winners included Elizabeth Stypes, Harriet White, Helen Pauli, Marian Irwin and Betty McDonald. These five appeared in the costume of the Dionne quintuplets.

Phi Lambda Chi's last Budget Dinner will be given on November 8 at some restaurant in the downtown area. Following the dinner, members will adjourn to the clubrooms for cards, games and dancing.

Rush Tea

One hundred members and rushes attended the club's recent rush tea. Renee Priester and Claire Schumacher directed the affair. Refreshments were served at tables decorated with green, orange, and brown crepe paper, carrying out the autumn motif.

Hostesses, sub-chairladies, and entertainers for the tea included Alice Marsten, Montez Hooyet, Edith Stoner, Marjorie Eckenberge, Barbara Thomas and Dolores Gerzette.

Frisolous Faculty Finish Fooling...Follies a Flop!

By the Gate Crasher

"Revealing! Daring! Scandalous!" so the Faculty Follies announcement said. To which we reply: "Oh yeh?"

Read, if you want to waste your time, the following, and see for yourself just how much your Gate Crasher suffered (in his, her, or its press box) while the Follies were displayed.

Act One: Enter faculty members, hungry looking and colorfully dressed. They sit down. (There are chairs and tables in the auditorium.) They eat. (And we, unknown and named for UNWANTED and starved... watch them.) One by one they give sighs of rejoicing and relief; they are happy; the food was well; they are filled. (All our fingernails are lying on the floor... but watching those teachers at was awful!)

Act Two: Mr. Kenneth King, m. c.-ing, starts a grand march going. Mrs. MacCauley, slamming it out to the piano. Dean DuFour looked rather cute (after his recent illness) doing a cross between an Irish jig and the German goose-step. Dr. Barney's gypsy costume very colorful (per usual). Especially was it noticed when she occupied two chairs. (It was sort of a musical chairs game they were playing.)

The M. C. was particularly bad when he made that pun while talking about a teachers' union: "Ask King. It was so bad that we cave it out."

Nicholls Sings Ancient Hymns

At the Yom Kippur and New Year's services of the Jewish holidays, September 27 to October 7, Mrs. Irene Nicholls, State singing instructor, sang traditional solos of the Hebrew faith at Temple Emanuel-El on Arguello Boulevard and Lake street.

"Few people know the Hebrew music, or know of its traditional beauty," said Mrs. Nicholls. "The plaintive melodies are claimed to have been handed down from the time that the Jewish children were in Egyptian bondage. Perhaps this explains the Oriental flavor sifted through so many of the chants."

Dr. "Rexford Tugwell" Cave and his brother, Dr. "President Roosevelt" Floyd Cave then ordered reports from the following: Miss Fleming, "How to Control a Whispering Campaign," Dean Cox, "The Reclamation of Abandoned Farms," "How to Elevate the Lower Classes," Dean Butler, "Increasing the Efficiency of Boons-doggling," Mr. King, "The Constitutionality of Low Cost Education," Mrs. Monroe, "How to Control Weather Conditions to Prevent Droughts," Dr. Treutlein, "How to Eliminate Extra-Curricula Activities," Dr. Knuth, and "How to Appreciate the Novels of Zane Grey," reported by Dr. Arnesen.

Mrs. Monroe, colorfully decked out in a few of her red and wilder handkerchiefs (why, of course, she had a GREEN dress underneath!) made her appearance. She, too, was in the "Personality Plus" Dr. Valentine, gave us this one:

"Girls, if a bandit jumps on the running board of your car and you have him arrested for impersonating an officer, that's POISE!" (Dear Bertha, we thought that you were above that!... or was it one of your weaker moments?) "And if you have the right kind of personality, the POISE will all follow you down the street..." (Ditto former parentheses!)

Meeting Friday

Dan Baker, editor of last year's annual and former writer of the Golden Gater, will play host to the members of Alpha Phi Gamma this Friday night at his home, 68A Walter street.

Dan Baker, who is attending Stanford this year, was prominent in journalistic and other activities while a student at State. Baker first made his name well known by his column "Baker's Oven," but later in his career his work in photographic fields extended his reputation.

A skit on "How to Win Even if You Lose" was presented by K. M. King and Madam (Parley-Vouz) Dony. (This is also too, too terrible to quote in detail. Suffice it to say that Madame and Monsieur missed their profession. He should have been a S. F. State janitor; she should have been an actress.)

Finally (at LAST!) the party livened up a wee bit. In honor of two new papas, Dr. Knuth and Dr. Fisk, and in honor of one new randfather, a diaper dressing contest was held. Since the contestants weren't allowed (probably by their wives) to bring their own infants to practice on, they had to use dolls.

Dr. Fisk won the contest. (Boy, and does he know how! This was good: With coat off, shirt sleeves rolled up and "taking it easy," he made the perfect picture of "hubby working over the young-un.") We'd like to give Dr. Roberts a secret two toots: What's this? You've had more experience, more background for that sort of thing and yet you still managed to fumble with those safety pins!

Well, that is all. Now your Gate Crasher can make faces at Bob Marcus and get away with it. You'd think that guy was on the faculty the way he "strongarms" all and undry who attempt to crash the gate. (Thank gosh he doesn't know your snooper's identity!)

Madrigal Singers Have Eight New Members

According to Miss Eileen McCall, assistant professor of music, eight persons have been selected for membership in the Madrigal Singers, a group of State students who, under Miss McCall's direction, prepare and present musical programs.

At an initiation party to be held Thursday evening at the Tivoli Restaurant, the following students will be initiated: Dorothy Berg, Honora Mallon and Wilma Rockman, sopranos; Clarice Ellithorpe, alto; Eugene Corbett, Theodore Eogent and Howard Miguel, tenors, and Lou Harrison and Carleton Peters, basses.

Miss McCall reports that four places are still open in the organization, one for each voice. She urges that anyone interested in trying out for membership in the group should see her at once in her office in Annex B4.

Dr. Roberts Returns To His Office

Buildings, Equipment Make San Diego State College Rate High

"President Walter Hepner of San Diego State College deserves the highest commendation from all educators for the remarkably fine work he has done at that institution," President Alexander C. Roberts said upon his return from San Diego, where he attended the recent meeting of city and county superintendents. "President Hepner took charge of a completely new plant on September 1. It includes new buildings and new equipment ranked as some of the finest in the state. The college is now one of our larger state colleges and houses a student body in excess of 300," President Roberts added.

President Hepner presided at the meeting which took place during a three-day period last week. It was the first meeting of size he had since taking charge of the new plant. State Superintendent of Schools Vierling Kersey was the principal speaker and explained the new status of state colleges since recent legislation was passed concerning them. He also spoke upon his fine job President Hepner had done as head of the San Diego institution. Guests included some of the supervisors of schools in the southern part of the state and the presidents of state colleges.

October 10, President Roberts, President McQuarrie of San Jose State, and President Hamilton of Chico State were the guest speakers at a luncheon held in the Mona Lisa Cafe on Wilshire boulevard in Los Angeles. Also on the speakers' list were Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Strong of the Stanford Parent-Faculty Club. The meeting was attended by friends and deans of Southern California universities and colleges.

PIONEERS OF CALIFORNIA EDUCATION

By ROY W. CLOUD

JOHN SWETT
California has had many distinguished educators. One of the most distinguished, who came to California in the early days of the state possessing the power to instruct, to formulate new thoughts in education, and to inspire the citizens of the state with the necessity of a good public school system, was John Swett.

He, without doubt, did more to make his name a part of the history of education than any other educator connected with the public schools of California.

On the first day of February, 1853, John Swett sailed in through the Golden Gate. He didn't come to California to teach school. Because of ill health he had determined that he would lead an active life in the great outdoors. The gold fields of California had beckoned him from his native New England.

For a while he prospected in the Feather River country.

The gold that others apparently found so easily eluded him, so late in the fall of 1853 he applied for, and was appointed to, a teaching position in the San Francisco city schools.

Before the close of the year he became principal of the Rincon Grammar School of two teachers. For nine years he served the children and people of San Francisco.

At the election of 1862 on the Union ticket, he became the candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. He was elected, but because of a change in the election laws, it was necessary for him to seek re-election the following year. He was again elected and served until 1867, when he returned to San Francisco as an elementary principal.

Two years later he became deputy superintendent of schools. Upon the formation in 1869 of the old "Girls' High School," he became principal. From 1889 to 1893 John Swett was the city superintendent of schools in San Francisco.

During all of the 40 years in which John Swett served, he planned for the future of the California schools. It may be said of him more truly than anyone else, that he was the father of the state school system. He outlined most of the beneficial laws which have helped to develop and maintain the schools of California as they are today.

John Swett came from one of the oldest English families in America. In 1642 his forebears left Devonshire, England, and settled in the Massachusetts Bay colony. He was born at Pittsfield, New Hampshire, on July 31, 1830.

On leaving school work in San Francisco in 1893, he retired to a ranch in the Alhambra valley of Contra Costa County. At this home, educators from all over the world visited him, to get the inspiration and information which he was always willing to give.

In 1913, just a few months before Mr. Swett's death, President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, in conferring on John Swett the highest honor given by the University, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws, said: "John Swett, more than any man who lives or who has lived is responsible for what is best in our California public schools; teacher and friend of teachers; educational statesman."

August 22, 1913, this man of 83, who at the age of 23 had come to California for his health, passed on his work to others with the knowledge that he had fulfilled the motto which in early life he had adopted from Horace Mann. It was, "Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity."

Hallowe'en Party Is Planned for Seniors

Low seniors met on Tuesday, October 1, in the Co-Op, with Alvin Parrish, class president, presiding. Plans for future activities and social events were discussed. Among these was the Hallowe'en party, given in conjunction with the high seniors, at the Fredrick Burk auditorium.

After the business of the evening was discussed and the meeting adjourned, an entertainment was provided. A violin solo was rendered by Lucien Morrison, a piano solo by Howard Burbeck, and a vocal number by Howard Demelle and Dawn Wilson entitled "You Gotta Have a College Education."

Tentative plans are under way for the traditional Senior Ball, announced Alvin Parrish, low senior class president. It will be held on January 18, but as yet it is undecided where it will be. Marlon Curry and William Connolly have been appointed co-chairmen.

...the question is, does it suit you?

Now, when it comes to a cigarette that will suit you... you want to think whether it's mild, you want to think about the taste

That Chesterfields are milder and taste better is no accident...

The farmer who grows the tobacco, the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder, every man who knows about leaf tobacco will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobaccos to make a good cigarette.

In making Chesterfields we use mild ripe home-grown and Turkish tobaccos.

Fumble!

Brown and Columbia--Architectural Contrasts

Columbia College in 1790.

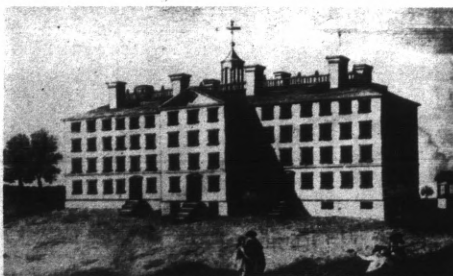

Columbia University Library (1897)

INSPIRED by the success of the first four colleges, five others took root before the Revolution interrupted all formal education on our shores. Benjamin Franklin's radically un-churchly University of Pennsylvania and New York's Episcopalian but progressive King's College demonstrated their mutual tolerance by jointly collecting funds in London. Somewhat later Samson Occum, of the Mohican tribe, was performing that service in England and Scotland for Eleazar Wheelock's struggling Dartmouth.

Still primarily theological seminaries, Baptist Brown and Dutch Reformed Rutgers reflected the changing manners, the flourishing trade and wealth of their world, in more liberal purposes and methods. Chartered as Rhode Island College and Queens, both were soon re-named after important benefactors.

Of Franklin's university no buildings remain. Rutgers was weak and Dartmouth poor, and none that lasted were built until after the War. The only trace of King's College's first hall is in an engraving of 1790, when it was already re-baptized Columbia in honor of Christoforo Colombo.

BBROWN'S original University Hall still stands, only very slightly altered. John Brown, pioneer overseas shipping magnate, himself laid its cornerstone in 1770 and gave liquid encouragement to the workmen when each floor and the roof was finished.

Brown University about 1790.

Brown's University Hall as it looks today.

But the college was named for a Brown of the next generation, who gave more lasting gifts.

Typical of the years just before the Revolution is the long, roof-topping balustrade seen in both old prints. In both the cupola seems especially spindly and graceless. If Brown has too few accents of gables and portals to enliven its front, Columbia has too many. Where Brown's middle is marked by an exaggerated projection, Columbia, lacking it, is without a unifying center of interest.

Still on its original grounds, Brown is not seriously pressed for space, although the President's House (demolished in August) had to be removed from the campus some years ago. Columbia has felt the space problem more acutely than any other of our Colonial colleges. When the old print was made it had already moved (in 1756) from near Trinity Church to the "outskirts"—what is now Park Place. The "outskirts" to which the college moved in 1857 was the region around Madison Avenue and 49th Street.

Since 1892 Columbia has stood on her fourth site, where her new domed Roman magnificence stands in vivid contrast both to her unpretentious Colonial beginnings and the modern motorized milieu.

This is the fourth in a series of exclusive articles on American College Architecture. The fifth, to appear next week, will discuss the beginnings and buildings of Rutgers, Dartmouth and Dickinson.
